

Two flower exhibits will be on display at the Cleveland Museum of Art during the month of May. An exhibition of flower prints, drawings and books from the collection of Mr. and Mrs. Warren H. Corning will be displayed through the 6th of June in Gallery 26. In the Education Corridor a number of the Museum's outstanding flower prints will be exhibited throughout the summer. Included in this show are prints by Redouté, The Furber Series, Monnoyer, Ehret and Thornton among others.
